Teachers Day Celebration: 2022 Peer teaching

This year the college celebrated the teacher's day on 5th September, 2022 in Innovative way .This year on the demand of the students the responsibility of teaching learning on teachers Day was delegated to students. The students from each class took the responsibility of teaching. Moreover, the last year student Ms. Radha Sagare became Principal and Ms. Soniya Nakil and Ms. Vaishnavi Phadke were selected as Vice Principal. The whole duty of teaching was handled by the students. Everyone looked excited.

Objective of Teachers Day celebration:

1. To provide opportunity of experiential learning., peer teaching.
2. To motivate the students to participate in different activities.
3. To boost students' stage daring and self-confidence
4. To encourage critical thinking
5. To test their interpersonal skills

Experiential learning is a pedagogy that actively engages the student in the phenomena that they are studying, such as in cooperative education, internships, clinical experience, service learning, outdoor leadership, organizational development, and activity-based learning. When students develop their own research agenda, engage in critical thinking and test their interpersonal skills, they come face to face with an alternative worldview, learning through both action and reflection, including the consequences of the larger social and ethical implications of this knowledge. This type of learning engages students in a deliberate process of hands-on problem solving and critical thinking. It often evolves with a minimum of the usual institutional structure dictated to the student in advance of the learning experience. Students in an experiential learning context are not memorizing and feeding back information: they are generating their own ideas and working through possible solutions to complex problems. This integration of concrete action and reflective thought makes possible the evaluation of learning through intentional, measurable learning goals and objectives.With all these intentions the Teachers Day celebration Was Planned.

On that day , It was wonderful atmosphere to see, the girl students dressed in sarees and boys dressed in formals like their teachers were entering in classes. The Principal and Vice Principals were moving from one class to another observing the classes and discipline. It was really a great experience to see this. The students relieved the teacher for a day. After teaching hours the students organized a program for teachers. The program was inaugurated by Lamp lighting at the auspicious hands of Prof. Sanjay Aher, Ms Radha Sagare , Ms. Soniya Nakil and Ms. Vaishnavi Phadke. One Day Principal , Ms Radha Sagare and Vice Principal , Ms. Soniya Nakil and Ms. Vaishnavi Phadke, paid floral tribute to the portrait of Dr.Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan.

Then students felicitated the teachers and also gifted them books as a token of love. After this, one day principal, Vice Principal and teachers were felicitated. In addition to this, the students arranged an interview of Prof, S.J. Aher to know his life journey. The students enjoyed an interview of Prof. Aher as he depicted his struggle for education and narrated the hurdles and obstacles in his life , and how he tackled them and became Professor in Law. The students got an inspiration from his real life story.

Then, some students sang songs and teachers expressed their views and thanked the students for organizing such a wonderful program. The program ended with refreshment and obviously wonderful photo session.

The students enthusiastically participated in the programme.

Reading, one of the most important skill for the development of personality because it makes you more empathetic, knowledgeable and stimulates your imagination. It reduce stress by 68%. It helps in reducing tension and relaxing muscles which in turn helps people to sleep better and stay healthy. Every time you read a book, you have to remember the setting of the book, the characters, their backgrounds, their history, their personalities, the sub-plots and so much more. As your brain learns to remember all this, your memory becomes better. What's more, with every new memory you create, you create new pathways and this strengthens the existing ones.

Figuring out how the story was going to end before finishing the book means you utilized your analytical skills. Reading allows your thinking skills to become more developed in the sense that you consider all aspects. In our internet-crazed world, attention is drawn in a million different directions at once as we multi-task through every day. In a single 5-minute span, the average person will divide their time between working on a task, checking email, chatting with a couple of people (via gchat, skype, etc.), keeping an eye on twitter, monitoring their smartphone, and interacting with co-workers. This type of ADD-like behavior causes stress levels to rise, and lowers our productivity. When you read a book, all of your attention is focused on the story—the rest of the world just falls away, and you can immerse yourself in every fine detail you're absorbing. Try reading for 15-20 minutes before work (i.e. on your morning commute, if you take public transit), and you'll be surprised at how much more focused you are once you get to the office or school.

The sessiongiven by Yuvraj Kadam was beneficial to all and it enlighten us. He also gave information on how to present yourself in interview and also how to conduct interview.

The students actively attended the course and participated in all activities enthusiastically. They were satisfied with such a ground breaking activity organized by college for grooming their personality and demanded to arrange such courses frequently. I was assigned the role of a management Consultant at the Brunel Museum during my internship at the college. The museum had lost business due to Transport for London constructing a bridge over the museum. I developed a business model for the museum which helped it attract visitors during the time of crises. Practical solutions like circulating flyers, providing story telling sessions at the museum for young boys and girls, organizing events helped the museum in getting business.

Presentation Skill

Points for remembrance to make it effective

Effective presentation skills are essence of any profession. To be a master in your profession you have to be master in presenting your work. The material of your presentation should be concise, to the point and must have an interesting story. Moreover, in addition to regular expectations such as content, clarity following things are also important.

- Your voice- How you say it is as important as well as what you say
- Body language- Body language communicates personal feelings through facial expressions,posture, gesture, positions and distance- either consciously or involuntarily. Often subconscious feelings are accompanied by the spoken language. Body language can include any reflexive or non-reflexive movement of part of the body to communicate an emotional message to the outside world. It is the basis from which we draw our nonverbal conclusions.
- Appearance-The first impressions influence the audience's attitudes to you, dress appropriately and that should suit the occasion
- Preparation - Prepare the structure of the talk carefully and logically, just as you would for a written report. What are the objectives of the talk? What are the main points you want to make?Write out the presentation in rough, just like a first draft of a written report.
- Review the draft. If, you find things that are irrelevant or superfluous-delete them. Check thestory is consistent and flows smoothly. If there are things you cannot easily express due to your own doubt about or lack of understanding, it is better to leave them unsaid.
- Read what you have prepared as many times as you can to make yourself comfortable, pronounce all words appropriately, and at the time of exact presentations, never read from a script. It is also unwise to have the talk written out in detail as aPrompt sheet. You should know most of what you want to say.So prepare cue cards which have key words and phrases, sometimes sketches and diagrams on them. Rehearse your presentations at home to make you more confident.

- Making the presentation
- Greet the audience (for example, 'Good morning, ladies and gentleman') and tell them very leniently who you are. While commencing,mention the topic of presentation and even at the end tell them what you have told them. Take care of beginnings of presentations, bridging with proper linkages and effectively ending of your presentations

- Delivery -Speak clearly. Don't shout or whisper- avoid negative self-talk due to anxiety and judge the acoustics of the room.Don't rush, or talk deliberately slowly, be regular as you are always. Deliberately pause at key points – this has the effect of emphasizing the importance of a particular point you are making. To make the presentation interesting, change your delivery style .In this respect use of audio visuals is useful to make presentation effective but while presenting take proper care of the Speed with what you deliver your speech and the pitch of voice. Use your hand to emphasize points but don't indulge into much hand waving. People can, over time, develop irritating habits. Ask colleagues occasionally what they think of your style. Avoid moving about too much. Pacing up and down can unnerve the audience. Keep an eye on the audience, body language. You must know when to stop and also when to cut out a piece of the presentation.

  Finally…, allow the queries and satisfy them. Enjoy yourself.

WISH YOU ALL THE BEST

Report of Linguistics skills developed through Essay Writing competition

On Human Rights Day: Write-up competition

Thursday, 10th Dec. 2020

On every 10th December Human Rights Day is observed as it was the day the United Nations General Assembly adopted, in 1948, the Universal Declaration of Human Rights (UDHR). The UDHR is a milestone document that proclaims the inalienable rights which everyone is entitled to as a human being - regardless of race, color, religion, sex, language, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status.

This year, on the occasion of Human Rights Day the college initiated a novel activity for the students, staff and alumni. In our daily life being a law student or a teacher, we, directly or indirectly, knowingly or unknowingly, create awareness about Human Rights and work to promote them in people around us.

In this regard, the college organized a write-up competition for students, teachers and alumni in which they were requested to write about their own contribution or experience for promoting Human Rights and for creating awareness as well protection of Human rights with supportive documents, photos, feedback etc. . The students actively responded to this initiative .Three best write-ups were awarded by the college. This competition was coordinated by Ms. Smita Adimani. Following students were awarded prizes.

First Prize: Mr. Rrushikesh Kadam-Patil

Second Prize: Mr.Abdul Basit Mulla

Third Prize: Ms. Rucha Pathak

Love you Zindagi

Report

Date:5 October 2019

The college has organised a program ' Love you Zindagi'in association with Youth Inspiration th Network (YIN) by Sakal Newspaper on 5 October 2019 at 10.00 am at the college auditorium . Dr. Kalidas Patil a reknown Psychologist motivated the students for developing a positive mindset and changing their attitude to change their life.

He told the students to appreciate the things they have and to look around and learn to appreciate everything that they have in their life and also to put things into perspective, and enjoy the good things in their life. He suggested the students to think twice before they act, look at problems logically. He said , "When you let emotion take over, you may do things that made sense at the time, but in the end were not the best choices. Before you act, think about what your action(s) will cause. If a person does something wrong that negatively affects him or her, don't attack. Think about the best response."

He explained difference between react and respond. He said, "These two words are the difference between a happy, enthusiastic, positive person and a sad, frustrated, negative person. When anything happens in life that affects you, both directly and indirectly, respond to the situation. This means you think about it, use reason to find a solution, and take the appropriate measures. When you react, you skip the reasoning stage and do what comes naturally in the moment. This only serves to cause more problems and frustration. Respond, do not react!" He even advised the students to focus on interesting ideas or concepts, and to list and document your progress in discovering new ideas. The students enjoyed the program thoroughly. Prof. Jarandikar proposed vote of thanks.
