The Lok Adalats are formed to fulfill the promise given by the preamble of the Indian Constitution— securing, justice – social, economic, and political of every citizen of India. Observations of Lok Adalat by students

There are various issues which raised during Lok Adalat proceedings. The most important factor while deciding the cases at the Lok Adalat is the finality of the Award. The award passed by the Lok Adalat is the decision of the court itself though arrived at by simple method of conciliation instead of the process of arguments in court. Cases can be decided by the Mutual consent of the parties. It cannot be forced on the part that matter has to be decided by the Lok Adalat.

The benefits that litigants derive through the Lok Adalat are :

- No Court Fee
- Procedure Flexibility and Speedy Trial
- Directly interaction with the Judge
- Award of Lok Adalat is binding

Conclusion

The Lok Adalat proceeding was very conducive to seeking amicable resolution to disputes and saved the parties the cost of litigation. Experience of such extracurricular activity brought extra knowledge to the law students. Report of the Online One Day Workshop held on 11 th January 2022

Topic: Woman in Contemporary India: Understanding issues and Challenges

Organized in Collaboration with

New Law College, Kolhapur

Yashawantrao Chavan Law College, Karad

On 11 th January 2022, Bharati Vidyapeeth's New Law college Sangli in collaboration with NewLaw College, Kolhapur Yashawantrao Chavan Law College, Karad organised the one day workshop on the topic Woman in Contemporary India: Understanding issues and Challenges. Dr.Swati Dyahadroy, an expert in gender studies, who working as lead researcher on various projects in Women's studies was the resource person of the first session of the workshop.

An adept researcher with decades of experience particularly in the fields of gender equality Ms. Deepa Tak was resource person for the second session of the workshop.

In her brief introductory note, Prof. Smita Adimani welcomed the guests and spoke about the general misconceptions people regarding gender and explained the aims and objectives for selecting this topic for the program. Prof. Adimani said that there has been an increasing need to make gender sensitisation at the ground level. The concepts of gender sensitisation and gender equality aim to fill the vacuum between idealism and reality.

In the first session, Dr. Swati Dyahadroy started her conversation on 'Understanding Gender in Contemporary India' with basic question, What is gender? As per her view, gender is a social construct, a spectrum that forms the basis of how we view people and relationships. Over time, the inequality that has been normalized as a result of stereotypical perceptions creates a hierarchy that deprives and oppresses certain stakeholders in it. She shared her valuable insights on the connection between gender equality and the law. She suggested the steps that should be taken to check gender inequality. She appreciated the college for organizing such workshop and added that it was a short introduction to the importance of gender sensitization and gender equality, the removal of gender biases at every step of the society, and including the voices of marginalized stakeholders to achieve lasting change. At the end question answer session was held. The students and teachers asked many questions and Dr. Swati patiently satisfied there queries. The first session ended with vote of thanks by our student Mr.Tushar Dhemre.

This mission statement was taken forward by Ms.Deepa Tak in the second session who presented the statistical data about Gender based Discrimination: Son preference or Daughter Aversion. She explained in details the laws introduced to stop female feticides. She stated that to establish that equality is not the sole mission of gender justice initiatives, but is also the primary mandate of education, especially legal education. She said that education is the key to break free from our social baggage that comes from caste, gender, and religion. In her argument using real-life, societal examples, such as how women are often seen in a unidimensional, problematic light – as victims or repositories of filial honour, which limits their potential and their power. She makes a connection between the invisibility of discrimination for a few as a direct product of their social privilege, which reinforces inequality and causes a ripple effect by creating ‘gaps’ in several important areas .

She hopes that through this workshop, all the participants can unlearn and challenge the narrow notions of the past to participate enthusiastically in an experience that reaffirms the position of women as free and independent citizens.

Principal, Dr.Pooja Narwadkar, in her presidential address talked about security issues .She said at present the security of women is at stake. She said that just making laws is not sufficient; but its stern implementation necessary .Moreover, legal awareness of women is need of the day to make them aware about their rights. She appreciated both the resource persons for presenting this severe issue in such simplistic way that student and their parents can understand it easily. Further, she appealed all the participants to think over this crucial topic seriously and step forward to stop gender discrimination .She said as a law student they should actively contribute to this social cause.

The event ended with a vote of thanks, delivered by our student Mr. Rajeshwar Singh. Prof. Shreyash Mohite, Mrs. Anita Patil and students of BVNLCS Ms. Soniya Nakil , Mr. Tushar Dhemre and Mr. Rajeshwar Singh were part of the coordinating team of the program.

Interclass Client Counselling Competition

20th May 2022

College organizes various activities every year to develop students' professional attitude, knowledge and all round development. Client Counselling Competition is one of the activity which shows an actual communication between client and counselor.

Our college, Bharati Vidyapeeth's New Law College Sangli has organized the Interclass Client Counselling Competition Wednesday, 18th May 2022 at 12:15 pm. The purpose of the Client Counseling Competition promotes greater knowledge and interest among law students in the preventative law and counseling functions of law practice. It also encourages students to develop interviewing, planning, and analytical skills in the lawyer-client relationship in the law office. Interviewing and advising are a significant part of most lawyers' work. Too often, it is assumed that lawyers have the listening and questioning skills needed to conduct an effective interview. The Competition provides an opportunity for a valuable educational and cultural interchange between students and law teachers.

Nature of the Competition

The Competition simulates a law office consultation in which two law students, acting as lawyers (attorneys/solicitors/legal practitioners), are presented with a client matter. The students conduct an interview with a person playing the role of the client. Students are expected to elicit the relevant information from the client, explore with the client his or her preferred outcome, outline the nature of the problem, and present the client with a means (or range of alternatives, if appropriate) for resolving the problem. The interview with the client is then followed by a post-consultation period during which the students, in the absence of the client, analyze the interview and discuss the legal and other work to be undertaken. The interview and post-consultation period
